

Instructional Leadership Series

Session #5:
Taking the Lead

TAKING THE LEAD: INSTRUCTIONAL COACHING AND LEADERSHIP TRAINING

FEBRUARY 1-2, 2010 • BISMARCK
FEBRUARY 3-4, 2010 • GRAND FORKS

There will be a Part 2 of the training in June 2010.

Why Attend?

Discover the WHAT, WHY and HOW TO of instructional coaching and leadership. You will learn to:

- DEVELOP teacher leaders and administrators to serve as instructional, site-based leaders.
- BUILD capacity for effective communication and collaboration
- DEVELOP communication skills that impact school cultures and build trusting relationships with a laser focus on learning.
- UNDERSTAND how to facilitate data conversations and develop questioning skills that promote reflective thinking.
- UNDERSTAND the Concerns-Based Adoption Model to manage change and handle resistance.
- DESIGN a 30-day planning guide to begin the roadmap for instructional coaching.

Specific training will be geared to the 10 roles of school-based coaches as data coach, classroom supporter, school leader, mentor, learning facilitator, curriculum specialist, catalyst for change, and professional learner.

Registration Deadline:

January 6, 2010

Seats are limited, 50 per site!

Register NOW at:

www.conted.und.edu/ils

Conference schedule & credit registration info is also posted

Phone: 1.866.579.2663 (toll free)

Sponsored by:

- UND College of Education & Human Development
- UND Professional Development for Educators

Featured Presenter

and Facilitator: Chris Bryan, Trainer,
National Staff
Development Council

Time: 8:00 AM to 4:00 PM

Audience: Superintendents, Principals,
School Board Members,
Curriculum Developers, Lead Teachers

Part 1 Fees: $250 per person includes the book,
Taking the Lead, by Joellen Killion
& Cindy Harrison, lunch and breaks

Credit: Professional Development Credit
from UND is available

Chris Bryan, co-president of the Colorado Staff Development Council, works as an educational consultant through the Center for Quality Strategic Professional Development, Front Range BOCES in Colorado.

Chris has 35+ years of experience working in both private and public school settings as a teacher at the elementary and secondary levels. Chris has worked extensively with school-based coaches and served as a national consultant to various schools and organizations in several aspects of school reform, organization, professional development, standards-based instruction, differentiation and responsive teaching.

"Our district has truly benefited from the NSDC Instructional Coaching Academy featuring Chris Bryan. Jam-packed with useable and practical applications, Chris has helped our coaches and principals develop partnership agreements that clearly lay out roles and responsibilities for themselves and the teachers they serve..."

Nancy Murphy, Secondary Director of Curriculum & Professional Development,
Fargo Public Schools

UND THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA
Professional Development for Educators

Providing innovative teaching and learning opportunities for 21st century educators